

Peperomia Frost

Peperomia Frost is a charming little tropical plant that packs a lot of beauty into a small package.

The silvery-green leaves make Peperomia caperata Frost the perfect name for this attractive foliage plant.

Usually grown as a potted houseplant, it is extremely low maintenance for even a beginning indoor gardener.

Peperomia caperata Frost care consists of finding a spot with bright but indirect light, planting it in porous soil, and not watering it too much.
